

Evanston Public Library
Easy and Early Chapter Books Recommendation 2019

Beneath the Bed and Other Scary Stories* by Max Brallier, ill. Letizia Rubegni

Ready for some ghoulish chills? Let Mr. Shivers tell you five stories that are bound to raise the hairs on the back of your neck.

The Dog Who Lost His Bark* by Eoin Colfer, ill. P.J. Lynch

To help heal an abused puppy, a boy is told to teach it to bark. But how can you convince someone to trust you when the world has let them down?

Juana & Lucas: Big Problemas* by Juana Medina

You think you have problems? Look at what Juana's going through! Not only is her mom marrying again, but the whole family is now going to move to a new casa in Bogotá. What's a kid to do?

Let's Have a Sleepover!* by Norm Feuti

Harry's just thrilled to be staying the night at his best friend's house. But when Hedgehog reveals that they'll be camping in the backyard, things don't seem so great anymore.

Mr. Penguin and the Lost Treasure* by Alex T. Smith

Mr. Penguin and his spider partner Colin have always dreamed of being real honest-to-goodness adventurers. So when Boudicca Bones from the Museum of Extraordinary Objects asks them to find a secret treasure, you know this intrepid duo will be on the case!

Poof! A Bot! (Adventures of Zip)* by David Milgrim

Zip thinks he can create a bot who will wait on him. Hilarity ensues for the earliest of readers.

Sasha and Puck and the Potion of Luck (The Elixer Fixers)* by Daniel Nayero, ill. Janneliese Mak

Sasha's in a real pickle. Her dad keeps selling fake luck potions, leaving her to clean up the mess. Can she help a local chocolatier with her love life or will Sasha's father be exposed?

Save the Cake!* by Molly Coxe

Kate and Nate have baked a cake for Grandpa Jake. Can they keep it safe? Highlighting the long “a” sound, the trials and tribulations of these two snails will keep readers on their toes.

Smell My Foot* by Cece Bell

Chick and Brain are friends, and Chick insists on proper manners. So what happens when someone polite thinks you smell delicious? Another easy reader gut-buster from a Newbery Honor winner.

